

PRODUCTS ENDORSEMENT FOR AVN 52 CLAUSES

In respect of the coverage afforded in respect of the Products Hazard, the sub-limit stated in paragraph of Extended Coverage Endorsement (Aviation Liabilities) shall be amended to any one Occurrence and in the annual aggregate BUT ONLY in respect of liability arising from the Manufacture of an Aviation Product by/the Insured.

The overall aggregate limit of liability for all Extended Coverage Endorsements (Aviation Liabilities) shall not exceed.....

'Manufacture' means all work and processes from design to completion of the manufactured product but excluding all maintenance, repair and overhaul work and processes no matter where performed once the product has been delivered to the first customer.

AVN 52P(A) 21.5.09

In common with all AICG produced AVN Clauses, this Clause is published by AICG, but it is expressly non-binding and AICG makes no recommendation as to its use in particular policies. Insurers are of course free to offer different policy wordings and clauses to their policy holders.

Notes:

- 1) The clause reference is blank so that it can apply to a wider range of AVN52 clauses.
- 2) This clause would have to be amended if the wording to which it is endorsed does not refer to the "Products Hazard" and "Aviation Product".
- 3) the aggregate limit would reflect the overall policy aggregate limit negotiated, being either the existing limit plus new limit (cumulative) or the highest of existing and amended (non-cumulative), it being understood that the 'being within policy Limit and not in addition thereto' of Para [] of AVN52[] remains paramount.
